

Newsletter

Friday 31st January 2025

Dear All, this week we have been talking about Lunar New year, we have been using red and gold paper and paints as these colours are considered lucky. We have been retelling the story of how the years got their animal names and have found out the animal year for when we were born. We have also been birdwatching; at the beginning of the week, we made a bird hide and we have been sitting quietly inside to count the birds that visit our woodland area. Some of the children chose to go on adventures on Wednesday and Thursday visiting the Quarry and the woods.

Retelling the Lunar New Year Story

In the bird hide.

Looking for birds

Families Favourite Songs

This week we have enjoyed listening to James's Dad's favourite song -

Romeo and Juliet by Dire Straits

Next week we will pick a new song from the box. Don't forget to add your favourite in the box at the front of the Nursery.

Watching vehicles at the Quarry

Sliding down the muddy bank on an adventure.