

Newsletter

Friday 24th January 2025

Dear All,

This week has been another week full of adventures! We have walked a little further to one of our favourite places we know as 'Dingly Dell'! Here the children enjoy tree climbing, mountain climbing (up muddy banks), sliding (down muddy banks), swinging and of course helping each other. We are so impressed with the determination, perseverance and resilience children show us when they are out and about even on the wettest of days. Inside this week we have started to look at 'The Snail' by Henri Matisse and the children have been creating their own collages. We have also been looking at the letter 'S' and finding things beginning with a Ssssss.

Hide and Seek

Dingly Dell - Climbing up and down the banks.

Families Favourite Songs

This week we have enjoyed listening to Elodie's Mummy's favourite song -

Blue Monday by New Order

Next week will pick a new song from the box.

Don't forget to add your favourite in the box at the front of the Nursery.

Mud painting with our own nature brushes

IT Support

Please let us know if you are able to offer us a little help with ad-hoc IT support? (Or do you know anyone that can help?) For example, we need help with updating our application form to a fillable form that can be used online across common platforms.